

Happy 250th to America from Reedville!

Grand marshal Warner Rice has 40 years of service with the Fairfield's Volunteer Fire Department. The FFVD sponsored the parade.

The Northern Neck Wooden Boat School displayed their skills.

Here comes the golf cart parade. The Friday night spectacle attracted 21 decorated entries. A pavilion party followed at the Reedville Fishermen's Museum.

The Reedville Masonic Lodge #321 A.F. & A.M. tossed treats to spectators.

While parade participation and spectator attendance may have been down slightly, enthusiasm was explosive. The Northumberland High School Booster Club escorted the NHS Indians Dance Team, one of few marching units in the parade.

Chloe Altaffer placed second in the golf cart parade with an eagle's nest complete with balloon eggs, representing the birth of a nation.

Photos by Robert Mason Jr.

Sami Haynie placed third with a Christmas in July entry.

The Reedville Fishermen's Museum entered the Lillian-B.

Lilian Lumber Company parade participants blasted spectators with water canons, a prelude to the annual Fairfield's Volunteer Fire Department soaking at the parade's conclusion.

First District Congressman Rob Wittman walked the entire parade route shaking hands and greeting constituents.